Today, Sheldon Morgan-Dickson, Managing Director of Morgan Dickson has been shortlisted for The Duke of York New Entrepreneur of the Year Award for the 2016 for the 2016 Lloyds Bank National Business Awards. Morgan Dickson is a fast growth UK recruitment and executive search consultancy with offices in Bristol, London and Manchester. Morgan Dickson services clients across the whole of the UK and also internationally.

Sheldon Morgan-Dickson, Managing Director said: "Starting and running Morgan Dickson has been challenging yet the most rewarding thing I have done. We have had great success and have exceeded our own expectations since its inception but we are certain the business's greatest days and successes are still to come. We are honoured to be finalists amongst a field of the UK's greatest and most promising entrepreneurs and businesses. It's a fantastic end to a tremendous year, and a fantastic start to an even greater one to come."

The Duke of York New Entrepreneur of the Year Award Celebrates the potential that exists within leaders of the UK's most promising start-ups. We focus on the market opportunity identified, the model to capitalise on it, and how it has been executed.

The finalists were chosen from the hundreds of businesses that entered or were nominated across 18 award categories. They will now prepare for live presentations to an expert judging panel who will decide the overall winners.

Described as "the Oscars of great British business" by David Cameron, former Prime Minister, this year's prestigious award ceremony will take place on Tuesday 15th November, at the Grosvenor House, Park Lane, where the winners will be revealed.

For the first time, RT Hon Conor McGinn MP recently hosted a reception for the Lloyds Bank National Business Awards at the House of Commons. This enabled finalists to meet fellow entrants, the National Business Awards Advisory Board members, judges (who they will present to in September) and sponsors of each category.

Tom Broughton, Group Brand Director of the Lloyds Bank National Business Awards said: "Due to the high number of entries for this year's awards, narrowing the entries down to 140 finalists was a difficult task. But through a thorough and comprehensive judging process, the selected finalists demonstrate exceptional quality and diversity across a range of business sectors within the UK. We are now looking forward to the next step of the process and meeting some of the finalists face-to-face."
